

Land Owners To Vote on Water Project Soon

Those eligible to vote in the September 29 election to determine whether the High Plains Under-ground Water District No. 1 shall be created may cast absentee ballots now at the county clerk's office, according to Tom McFarland of Hereford, president of the temporary board of directors of the district.

Those eligible to vote are persons who have paid their poll tax, who have rendered property in the district for taxation and who live within the district.

The proposed district includes large areas of the northwestern and southeastern parts of Randall county, the extreme southwestern corner of Armstrong county, and all of Swisher county.

If a person has property in one voting precinct and lives in another he will vote in the box where his home is located.

To determine whether one's property lies within the proposed district it will be necessary to check or to refer to a detailed description of the boundaries of the district which the county clerk has.

The election will decide three matters. They are: First, creation of the district; second, whether the Board of Directors shall be given authority to levy a tax of not to exceed five cents per $100 on property in the district and, third, to elect a director for precinct 5.

Precinct 5 includes the parts of the counties of Oldham, Potter, Randall, Deaf Smith and Armstrong within the boundaries of the district.

Mrs. Carl Laughery Wins Cash As Result Of Radio Quiz Show

A Canyon lady is $96.00 richer because of a thorny question and Walter O'Keefe's "Double or Nothing" show. The proud winner of the $96.00 prize is Mrs. Carl Laughery, a Nebbett Hospital employee. The $96.00 winning question was, "If you were caught by a wait-ait, what would you be caught by?"

The answer, a thorn bush, stumped the person Walter O'Keefe asked and so the entire purse for the question reverted to Mrs. Laughery. The Walter O'Keefe show uses questions sent in by listeners. If your question is used, you get a portion of the money allotted. If the question is answered, the person answering the question gets half of the money and the person who sent the question in also gets half. In the event the question is used and not answered, the sender receives the entire purse.

Mrs. Laughery did not have the good luck to hear the program on which she won the money. Friends, who did hear the program, lost little time about informing the lucky lady. The happy winner admits that she got the question by studying the dictionary. Her question was used on Wednesday's program and by the end of the week she was still waiting for the check that many friends had kiddingly asked to borrow.

Clothing Exhibit To Be Shown at The Tri-State Fair

A clothing and baked products exhibit by Randall County women will be on display Friday until 3:00 p. m. at the Lindsey Motor Company. The exhibit will be opened to the public at 10:00 a. m. and will be judged an hour later at 11:00. At 3:00 p. m. the exhibit will be taken directly to Amarillo where it will be on display at the Tri-State Fair.

The exhibit will be under the direction of Miss Patterson, Randall County Home Demonstration Agent. Mrs. Kate Donnell Gamble will be assisted in judging the entries by members from the West Texas State College Home Economics Department.

An invitation is also being extended to the 4-H Club girls to enter any clothing which they desire to exhibit.

School Taxes Are Now Due, With September Discount

Lee Foster, tax collector of the Canyon Independent School district, has mailed cards to all local property owners showing taxes due for this year.

In order to secure prompt payment, the 3% discount which is allowed by the state for payment of taxes during September will also apply to taxes paid during the month of October. The school believes that many property owners will pay their taxes early in order to secure this discount.

Underpass Will Be Requested of Highway Group

A delegation from Canyon will attend the monthly meeting of the State Highway Commission in Austin next month for the purpose of laying before that body the necessity of starting work on the underpass just north of Canyon.

It is expected that the Commissioners Court, the City Commission and the Chamber of Commerce will name official representatives at the next meetings of these bodies in order that work may be started as soon as possible.

Work is progressing rapidly on the widening of Highway 87 through Canyon. But the four lane highway through Canyon will run into the two lane underpass at the edge of town, just as traffic from the north is slowed down by the underpass after speeding toward Canyon on the four lane structure north of the city.

While the highway and Santa Fe both recognize the importance and necessity of this widened underpass, neither has taken action toward starting work on the project.

Free Show For the Kids Will Be Shown Saturday

Another free show, and very likely some sort of special attraction, will be given Saturday morning at 9:00. The movie, "Mother Carey's Chickens," will be brought to the youngsters through the courtesy of Lane's Ice Cream and the Community Recreation Council. Once more the use of the Olympic Theatre will be donated by W. J. Wooten and the machinery will be operated by Charlie Donnell.

Approximately 300 children of this area attended the August movie and special attraction held at the Olympic Theatre. The special attraction at that time was a ride with the Chief of Police, plus the experience of being fingerprinted at the new fingerprint department of Sheriff Cantrell and Deputy Pounds.

All the children of this area have a special invitation to enjoy this free movie and the special attraction that goes along with it.

School For F. B. I. Is Attended by Chief of Police

Chief of Police, John King, recently attended the F. B. I. school held in Pampa. Leo Robertson, noted as one of the finest instructors in the F. B. I., conducted the school.

Robertson showed the peace officers how to take a man from a car against the man's will. He also showed them a few of the judo holds that would be of value to the officer who became engaged in a tussle with a desperate thief.

A session of target practice and fast shooting from the hip was engaged in by the peace officers. King's son, who is an Amarillo officer, topped the scores of the other officers with a mark of 84.

King is making an effort to get Robertson to come here during the last part of October. The instruction given by Robertson is of great value to the peace officer. Today's peace officer cannot know at what moment he may encounter a desperate character. When such a moment arrives for the officer, he needs every bit of knowledge and information at his command to cope with the situation.

Funeral For Mrs. Dunaway Held at Church Saturday

MRS. MATTIE DUNAWAY

Funeral services for Mrs. Mattie Dunaway were held in the First Presbyterian Church, Saturday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock. The Rev. Winston Wilbanks conducted the services of the 75 year old lady who passed away last Wednesday morning at 3:20 a. m. in the Nebbett Hospital.

She and her husband, the late John F. Dunaway, moved to Canyon from Portales, N. M., in 1913. Mr. Dunaway died in Canyon in 1914. Mrs. Dunaway came to Amarillo six years ago.

She was a member of the Presbyterian Church.

Among survivors are six daughters, Mrs. Johnny Smith, Mrs. Earl Irwin and Mrs. George Grogan, all of Amarillo, Mrs. E. J. Cundiff, of Canyon, Mrs. James Ireck, of Casper, Wyo., and Mrs. Ruby Wright of Fritch; and a son, Floyd F. Dunaway, of Austin.

Other survivors include a sister, Mrs. Mamie Hare, of Kansas City, Mo.; two brothers, J. W. Hays, of Ventura, Cal., and J. P. Hays, of Globe, Ariz.; and 19 grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren.

The pall bearers were all grandsons of Mrs. Dunaway. They were: Joe Bob Smith, Billy Earl Irwin, Frank Wright, Jack Wright, Jim Wright, and Joe Wright.

Burial was in Dreamland Cemetery under the direction of N. S. Griggs and Sons.

Out of town people attending the funeral were: Roy B. Wright of Houston, Texas; D. H. Haley of Clayton, New Mexico; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Webb, Joan, Lyndia and Hal, of Canadian; Mrs. Frank Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Dowdy of Fritch; and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Brennon, Kay and Thomas of Dumas.

School Patrol To Be Organized For The Coming Year

A meeting of sweeping importance is slated for Wednesday night, Sept. 19, at 8:00 p. m. in the City Hall. Everyone desiring to attend is invited and the object of the meeting is to organize a school patrol.

Several state patrolmen will be present as well as public school teachers. These people will direct the meeting and arrange for a number of students to participate in the activities of the patrol.

Because of the great distance between the two elementary schools, it is impossible for the police department to adequately patrol the areas during play periods. This situation gives rise to many dangers for the youngsters who find it necessary to cross the street. In order to minimize the dangers, various school children will be selected to form the patrol that will watch over the youngsters at various spots that appear dangerous.

Although motorists are usually careful while driving near school grounds, they sometimes forget that children who have a few moments of freedom from the classroom think more of the playground than of looking for cars on the street. The patrol to be formed is for the benefit of the children as well as the motorist. When driving in a school area the motorist should remember that, "children are to be seen, not hurt!"

Cold Wave Hit Plains With a Light Frost

A cold wave hit the Panhandle Saturday, driving the temperature down to 40 degrees. A cold rain of 13 of an inch fell Saturday evening, which brought very disagreeable weather over the week-end.

While no damage is reported by frost, C. P. Shelmutt stated that he saw some frost Sunday, and citizens of other sections of the Panhandle report having seen a light frost.

Weldon Tucek Is Winner in the 4-H Pig Club

Weldon Tucek walked off with top honors for the finest gilt in last Saturday's swine show at L. S. Johnston's cow barn. His pig will be taken to the Tri-State Fair in Amarillo to compete for a place among other prize winning pigs of this area.

Milton Morris of the West Texas State College Agricultural department judged the pigs in this annual event. The contest of spotted Poland China pigs is sponsored and encouraged by the Sears Roebuck Company. This company donated $30.00 to be given in prizes. The five prizes were, $8.00, $7.00, $6.00, $5.00, and $4.00.

The pig of Larry Porter took second money which was $7.00. Johnny Miller owned the pig that won third prize and a purse of $6.00. Roland O'Donald took the 4th prize of $5.00 and the 5th prize of $4.00 went to Jack Metcalf.

Other 4-H Club members entering pigs in the annual event were: Jerry Shipman, Art Miller and Tommy Davis.

The members of the 4-H Club exchange pigs for this annual occasion. The pigs that were in this show were received in June when they were 8 weeks old. When these gilts each produce a litter of pigs, the county agent will select the finest to be given to another member of the 4-H Club. This is the way the exchange works. Each member of the club gives another member a registered pig to be entered in the annual contest.

Beth Kimbrough Starts Work at Baylor University

MISS BETH KIMBROUGH

Heading the Children's Theatre at Baylor University in Waco this year, will be Miss Beth Kimbrough, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kimbrough. Beth received her Master of Arts Degree in August from Baylor, and did some special work in Children's Theatre last year in connection with her graduate work. She was graduated from West Texas State College in 1950 with a major in drama, and was a member of Alpha Psi Omega National Dramatic Fraternity, and of Gamma Phi sorority.

During her years at West Texas State, Beth was a member of South-west Summer Stock at Baylor University each summer.

Children's Theatre is an integral part of the Drama Department of Baylor University and hundreds of children from 4 to 12 years of age have been trained in the Theatre during the years it has been in operation. The children give three major productions a year under the direction of its head director, who this year will be Miss Kimbrough.

She left last week for Waco where she will assume her new duties at the beginning of the fall term.

Stay House Number Is Brought to the Canyon News Office

If 1907 is the number of your home and you're minus a lawn marker of that number, it may be that we have your number.

Tuesday morning a battered number, which is commonly used by many home owners on the lawns in front of the house, was brought to The News office by Deputy Pounds. He reported that the number was picked up in the street and it appears to have been driven over several times. There are a few small indentations in the metal that appear to be the result of B-B's from an air rifle.

Although the number seems to have been dragged along the street, ran over and shot several times with an air rifle, it's in pretty good shape considering all it's been through. It could be placed back on the lawn and from a few yards distance the blemishes would hardly be noticeable. So, if your house is number 1907 and your lawn marker is gone, drop by The News office and see whether or not the one which was turned in is your number.

District Governor Will Visit Rotary Club on Tuesday

P. F. BRIDGEWATER

P. F. Bridgewater of Midland will make his official visit to the Canyon Rotary Club next Tuesday as Governor of the 184th District. Mr. and Mrs. Dan F. Sanders and Richard spent Sunday at the home of her sister in Lubbock.

C of C Clinic to Start in Canyon Tonight

Plans for a successful work clinic by the Chamber of Commerce will be carefully laid in further detail in a meeting Wednesday night, September 19. Then on the following day there will be meetings and discussions held by various groups and members of the Chamber of Commerce.

An effort was made to send each person a letter as a special invitation. But those who did not get a letter are welcomed to attend the meeting in their particular group.

Bill Sternberg, president of the Chamber of Commerce, says that a great deal of help is coming this way through the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. There will be at least 3 members from this organization attending the meetings on September 20. There's a strong possibility that 4 members of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce will be here and the fourth member, if it's possible for him to make the meeting, will be none other than Fred Husbands, manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

The men who will attend the meeting are highly experienced in setting up the kind of program that is being planned here. They have helped many other towns in West Texas to set up a more efficient working schedule in the Chamber of Commerce.

The Chamber of Commerce here wants to do what is best for the majority. The only way to a successful goal in this direction is for the people to participate. Your needs and your ideas are needed very much.

These group meetings will be under the direction of Aldan Cathy, director of Public Relations of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, who will conduct the group meetings that will begin at 9:00 a. m.

The first group slated to meet is the service and trades people. Following their 9:00 a. m. meeting, the retail people gather at 10:00 a. m. The professional people will meet at 1:00 p. m. and the farmers will gather at 2:00 p. m. Women are scheduled to meet at 3:00 p. m. and teachers are to lay their ideas and needs on the block at 4:00 p. m. The meetings will be held in the 47th District Courtroom at the courthouse.

It is the belief of the Chamber of Commerce that, to have an understanding with people, you must talk with them. This is one of the main reasons for these meetings. Manager, Cecil Massey, is very eager to give this community the kind of Chamber of Commerce that will be a great asset. With your cooperation, this can be done.

Vice president will be Mr. and Mrs. Emmitt D. Smith. Miss Sarah Thompson will be the secretary. Mr. and Mrs. Ray Schultz will be treasurer. Mr. and Mrs. Veal Iverson will do historian duties while Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Barker will have the parliamentary chores.

Mrs. Cecil Massey Is Recovering From Attack of Polio

Cecil Massey, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, has recently returned from a trip to Weslaco where his wife is satisfactorily recovering from a light attack of polio. He reports that the flooded area of that town is quite extensive and only missed the home of his wife's parents by a few blocks.

For the most part the flood was in the Latin American section. This flood has been making recent headlines in the big daily papers throughout the state of Texas and the entire United States. Property damage ran into the millions.

Mrs. Massey has been with her parents in Weslaco for several weeks. She has made remarkable improvement in her battle with polio and if she continues to improve should be back home soon.

West Texas Gets Underway For a New Session

The fall term at West Texas State College was officially opened Thursday morning at ten o'clock with an impressive assembly program. Approximately 100 people, members of the faculty and guest speakers, were on the stage to face about ten times that number of students.

Looking over the sea of faces, one could almost unmistakably spot each student as to his correct classification. Bobbing about among the vast sea of students were the green beanie of the freshmen. The upper classmen were each wearing a special kind of intellectual look to fit the accompanying classification.

With a warm smile and a special word of welcome, Dr. Cornette got the program under way. He extended a word of greeting to the former students who were returning plus a special welcome for the new students and Airmen. Following the opening greeting of Dr. Cornette, Ernest Russell, president of the student body, added his welcome and greetings to the students and Airmen of West Texas State College.

Masterfully handling the program in a true master-of-ceremonies fashion, Dr. Cornette came back to introduce Dean Juniper. The Dean proceeded to make announcements about program changing and various activities of interest to the new student as well as the old.

The members of the faculty and guest speakers were all on the stage. Many of the faculty members were merely starting another year in the continuation of a long teaching career at West Texas State. There were 18 members of the faculty introduced as well as the two officers in charge of the Airmen.

After the introductions were made Dr. Cornette pointed out a few simple rules that would help the students in living and working together. He said that, "by applying as much of the golden rule as we can and as much common sense as we have, both student and faculty will enjoy a better relationship."

Following this announcement there were guest speakers representing the churches of Canyon and surrounding towns. Each welcomed the students and Airmen to church. As there is no Lutheran church in Canyon, the minister from the Amarillo Lutheran church welcomed the people of that faith to his church. The Lutheran pastor from Tulsa was also present to invite those who desired to come to his church.

Dr. Cornette closed the assembly with an appropriate prayer and then seated the students long enough for the photographer to get a picture.

Reds May Have a Plan, But No One Knows What This May Be

Naturally no one knows the mind which directs the affairs of Moscow. If any one knew for certain what Stalin and his crew of cut throats were up to, it would be easy to chart our course in dealing with this group. However, Stalin was smart enough to continue keeping us in the dark, and putting out veiled information and threats, which has thrown us into a jitter.

The purpose? Stalin stated early in his campaign that he intended to conquer America by causing us to spend ourselves poor. The commies succeed while there is a depression. Folks with plenty refuse to swallow the stuff which is advocated by the commies. Physical want and communism work hand in hand.

We have seen how Stalin is attempting to put off action in all fields. His stooges in the United Nations play a delaying action.

His Red forces in Korea are fighting a delaying action. Stalin sent his chief delayer to the Japanese treaty signing with the sole purpose of holding up action for at least a month.

The iron curtain was rung down during World War II in order that we might not see what Stalin had either in the way of materials or manpower.

In the meanwhile, Congress has been prodded into passage of the largest appropriation and tax measures in the history of the nation. We are running farther and farther in debt. This may be the plan of Stalin to scare us into such spending.

Let it be remembered that the acres, the thousands of acres of planes, were sold for junk following World War II. Whatever war materials we are building today will be junked tomorrow.

It is probable that Stalin has this in mind as he causes us to spend in our campaign against the commies.

Who knows—for sure?

President Truman Has No Idea Of What Is Waste and What Not

President Truman defends continued government spending. He denies that there is waste in public spending.

As a matter of record, let us say that the President knows nothing of what he speaks. He has been in politics all of his life, and knows nothing but spending, spending, spending. Where the money will come from is of little concern to the spenders.

If you will step out on the street and ask any man who thinks for himself for one minute, he will tell you that this kind of spending must stop. The man on the street is fearful of the consequences unless something is done to halt this waste of public money.

At the same time, the President declares that there is no danger of national bankruptcy. Various economists have been warning for months that the nation is fast approaching the point of danger. We prefer to believe those men who are expert in economy than to trust the free spenders who want to continue spending, spending, spending.

Dean Acheson Wins Praise For Handling Jap Parley

Secretary of State Acheson has removed all doubt from the minds of the American people as to his ability both as a statesman, and as a patriot.

Acheson handled the Reds at San Francisco in an intelligent manner, holding the vocal outfit to a minimum, and pushing through the peace treaty with Japan in a most statesmanlike manner.

In former conferences the Reds came to object, and have succeeded in delaying all progress.

They came to San Francisco, determined to hold out against the peace treaty for at least a month. Acheson threw to the wind the appeasement policy which has hampered past negotiations. His firm stand made it possible for the smaller nations to take a decided stand against the Reds. As we view the situation, Acheson is now safe with the American people—that is, he is safe until more serious charges are launched against him.

England Gets Our Oil, But Continues Buying Reds' Grain

England admits that she trades with Russia, but for a reason. That reason is the threat of starvation unless she buys food for her people.

At the same time England admits that she is getting oil from America to replace the oil lost in Iran.

Using American dollars under the Marshall Plan to spend with Russia for grain is not exactly a charitable way of showing the friendliness of one ally toward another.

This is the time of the year when a losing football team lets an institution of learning find out that it has some old grads.

Some of our June brides are beginning to wonder whether that big church wedding was such a wonderful idea.

It is always an easy proposition to stand on the sidelines and criticize the players.

Battle Cry Has Been Developed For the Campaigning of 1952

It is interesting to note that President Truman and his group of followers have a battle cry. "Truman Will Win in 1952."

How different to the prediction made by the Democratic party in 1948. At that time, as you will recall, no one thought that Truman could possibly win. Yet he conducted a whistle stop campaign, carrying his fight to the people.

The Republicans have been warned that the negative attitude of the party will again lead to defeat. For 20 years the party has been in the position of opposition to everything proposed by the Democrats.

If the GOPers expect to win in 1952, the party must get out a good clean candidate, and not just another politician; and in the second place, the party must adopt an aggressive attitude of being for something, rather than against the Democrats.

Those who object to graft and greed in public places will not be inticed to cast a negative vote for any broken down politician.

Governor Dewey has set about to wreck the chances of Senator Taft for the GOP nomination. The wrecking crew seems to be on the trail.

Secretary of Defense Marshall Again Steps Out of Picture

Secretary of Defense George Marshall has resigned his post. Whether he was always right, or part of the time very wrong, will always be a matter of conjecture.

The man on the street may think that he knows all of the answers to our national problems, but chances are he is likely to be pretty wrong at times.

Marshall stated flatly that he saw no chance of holding China against the Reds. So long as the corrupt Chiang machine existed on the mainland, Marshall was probably more right than wrong. Recognizing Red China is no solution, but taking a firm hand against Red China may help in holding the line against the intruders who are doing so much damage at the present time to our nation.

Perhaps Marshall has the idea that the Asiatics will finally come around to the strong groups, regardless of their past following.

Farmers Express Opposition To Practice of Crop Dusting

The other day we talked to two farmers. Both expressed opposition to the common practice of crop dusting to kill bugs.

Said one: "Here in the Panhandle we have been told that lady bugs are the very thing that should be developed in order to kill off green bugs and other pests. We have learned a lot about bugs, and the development of bugs which will kill the destructive insects. Along comes the dusters, killing off all kinds of bugs, the destructive, as well as the ones which we are trying to develop and to save."

Not being a farmer, and knowing little about bugs and insects, we are merely passing this along for your consideration. All bugs are not harmful.

Leaders Meet to Talk Over the Security of Nation in Capitol

Governor Dewey called upon President Truman at the White House and spent 40 minutes talking over conditions in the East.

This is the first time that Dewey and Truman have met since the campaign of 1948 when the President won, while the voters were telling Dewey that he had the election in the bag.

The future of America is too serious a matter for men who refuse to shelve politics and meet in a common cause. Both of these leaders will be highly complimented by the voters for their meeting, regardless of the outcome.

Steel Shortage No Particular Handicap to Nation's Progress

We are told that steel has become so scarce that little will be available for civilian use.

We have been suffering through this situation for several years. The facts are that civilians can get along with a lot of things that we used to think were essential.

Folks want to buy and spend while there is a scarcity of any item. We have witnessed unnecessary buying for so long that most of us have become accustomed to this kind of business.

STEAM FIGHTS SNAILS

Seattle, Washington — When the freighter Betsy Olson docked recently from Guam, with a cargo of rusty surplus war equipment and scrap, it was found that a voracious army of giant African snails were crawling over the deckload. The Government's Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine was called and live steam was trained on the cargo brought ashore. The ship was fumigated thoroughly before the rest of the load was discharged.

LIVING COSTS

The Consumers' price index rose almost two-tenths of one per cent in the month ended July 15, to a record high. The rise over a three-month period was enough to yield a one-cent-an-hour wage increase to about one million automobile workers and perhaps to many others under the cost-of-living escalator contracts.

KIDNAPPED A "DOLLY"

Indianapolis, Ind. — While Mrs. Robert Jones shopped in a grocery, someone "kidnapped" her ten-month-old daughter, Deborah Kay, who had been left in her stroller outside the store. The baby was found by Mrs. Dorothy Egel, visiting a block away, who saw her own 3-year-old daughter, Peggy Ann, pushing the stroller into the yard. The little girl explained, "It's my dolly."

New Barbiturate Law Has Little Effect Locally

The new Texas barbiturate law will have little effect upon the people of Canyon but the transients who sometimes visit here for this type of drug will find a new obstacle in their path. Various pharmacists in Canyon believe that the local people will be affected little or not at all because of the new law.

During the past century the Texas pharmacy laws affecting barbiturates and other drugs containing narcotics, have had only a few minor changes. The law which went into effect September 7, was the first major change in the Texas pharmacy laws. The purpose of this law is to insure that the public shall receive the therapeutic benefits of barbiturates under medical supervision to the full extent required to assure safety and efficiency in their use. In addition to this job, the new law is also designed to prevent such handling, sale or distribution of barbiturates for harmful or illegitimate purposes.

The basic responsibility of keeping this drug in its proper and legitimate channels falls upon the manufacturers, wholesalers, licensed compounders of prescriptions and persons prescribing such drugs. Canyon druggists have experienced only small demands for these drugs outside the regular and legitimate channels. These demands have been described as coming from transient addicts. Often an addict becomes known in one place and it becomes increasingly difficult for him to get the barbiturates and drugs he craves. This results in the addict seeking a new spot where he is unknown. For this reason a stray addict gets into Canyon occasionally.

FEDERAL TAXES

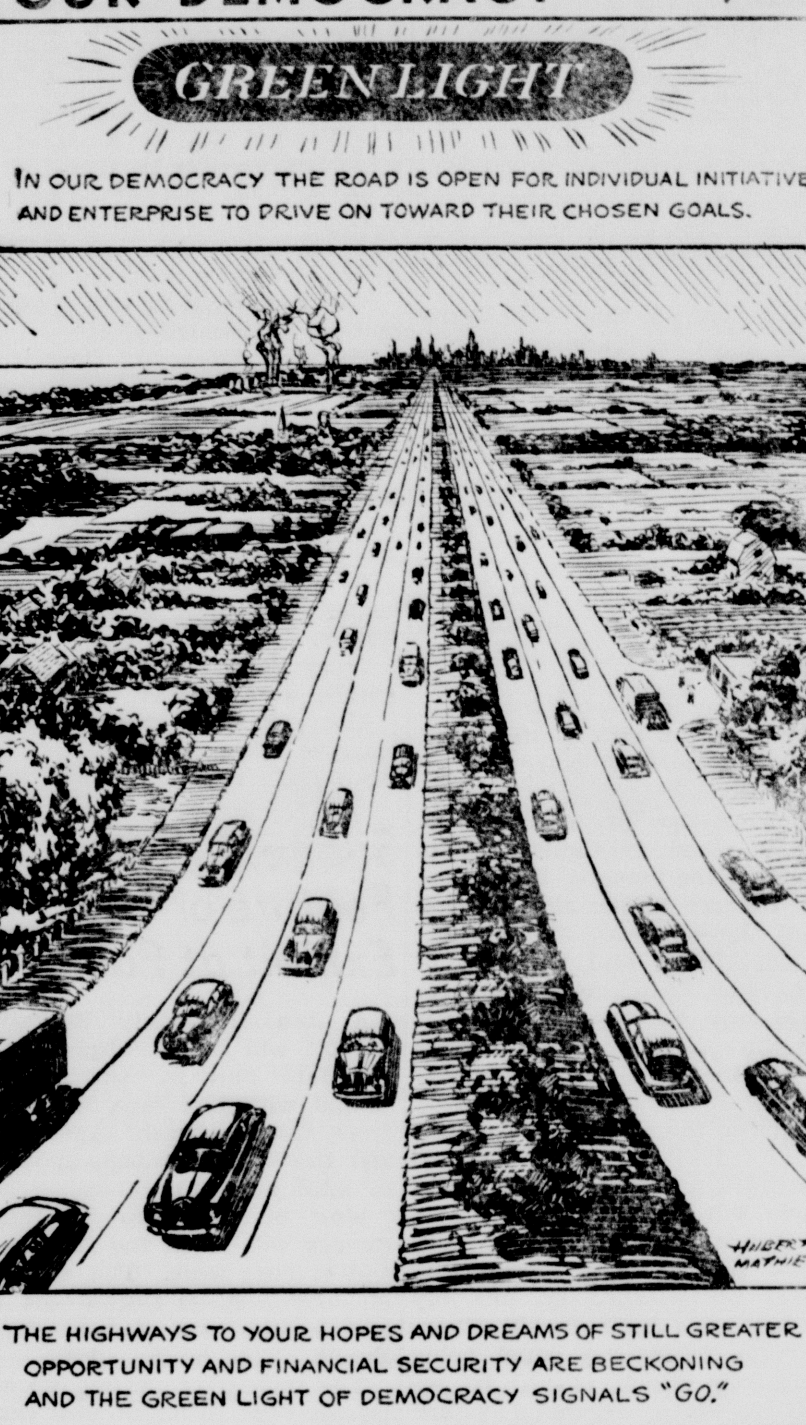

Six states — California, Illinois, Michigan, New York, Ohio and Pennsylvania, accounted for 56.42 per cent of all the taxes taken in by the Federal government during the fiscal year which ended on June 30. The total tax collection from all 48 states, Alaska, Hawaii and Puerto Rico amounted to $50,445,686.315 and included corporation income and profits taxes, individual income and employment of levies and miscellaneous collections including excise taxes.

G. O. P.

Under a tentative computation, the Republican National Convention in 1952 would have 1,199 delegates, an increase of 105 over 1948. The increase is due to the doubling — from three to six — of the delegate bonus for states that went Republican in the 1948 Presidential election, or failing that, elected a Republican Senator or Governor in 1950.

Registration Fee For Out-of-State Cars Is Effective

Mr. and Mrs. Average Citizen is going to have to keep plenty busy to stay familiar with the new laws that are being introduced in Texas. As of September 7, many new laws went into effect in this state. In fact Bill Money and his staff at the tax assessor's and collector's office are having a pretty rough time keeping up with the latest changes.

One of the laws that's sure to bring a howl of financial pain from motorists who register out-of-state cars is the new fee in getting that car registered in Texas. Whether the car is a 1929 model A Ford or a 1951 Buick convertible, there'll be a $15.00 fee attached to regular registration fees. This means that in addition to the money required to get your Texas license and title for a car that was previously registered in another state, you'll also be required to pay $15.00 before getting the license and title. Perhaps the only persons to be affected in Canyon will be those in the court house who have to keep up with such laws. It is hoped that the law will not affect out-of-state people who desire to make their home in Canyon.

NEW COINS

The Senate passed and sent on to the White House a bill authorizing the minting of 50-cent pieces in honor of Booker T. Washington and George Washington Carver, two outstanding negro leaders. Since it is customary for commemorative 50-cent coins to sell for $1 each, the bill provides that the proceeds shall be used to combat communism among Negroes.

GOOD INVESTMENT

The Farm Credit Administration recently sent a check for $1,000,000 to the U. S. Treasury, thus boosting to $100,000,000 the total dividends from the $200,000,000 loaned to farmers during the depression days of the 1930's.

Industrial production in the U. S. eased off in July to the lowest level in nearly a year. The Federal Reserve Board's index fell from 222 in June to 213 in July, the lowest since last September, when it was 211. The index is based on a 1935-39 average of 100.

Burglary Charge To Be Presented to Grand Jury

One of the cases to be presented to the Randall County grand jury will be that of Henry M. Williams. Although Williams is to be tried in Amarillo first, Sheriff Cantrell and Deputy Pounds are preparing their charges so that after being tried in Amarillo, Williams will also have to face trial in Canyon.

Williams was picked up on a burglary charge in Canyon last week. In his statement it also came to light that he had burglarized a house in the Potter County section of Amarillo. An indictment has already been returned against him in that town and that's where he'll stand trial first. The Amarillo indictment, for burglary and theft over $50.00 is the result of the break-in and looting of the H. R. Taylor home at 4915 Wolfelin Ave. where a rifle and pocket watch were stolen.

Following the Taylor break-in, Williams came to Canyon where he entered the home of R. A. Burgess. Because of two alert Canyon youths, the efficiency of the sheriff's department and the help of police radio, Williams was apprehended here, Sunday, September 9. More than 25 items in his possession at the time of arrest have been definitely identified as having belonged to the R. A. Burgess family.

Sheriff Cantrell and Deputy Pounds will present their case to the Randall County grand jury October 1. At present there are 48 persons being called up for jury duty beginning September 20. There is also a 16 person panel being called from which 12 will be selected to serve as grand jurors. It will be this grand jury that will return a true bill or a no-bill against Williams.

Friday afternoon Williams was still being held in the Randall County Jail. The youth faces the possibility of several years in the penitentiary. He was out on parole when picked up in Canyon. In the event he is tried and convicted in both Amarillo and Canyon, those sentences will run consecutively with the remainder of his parole. Which all adds up to prove the old adage, 'crime does not pay.'

Silage Will Be a Feature of Local Exhibit at Fair

A Randall County Educational Exhibit will be on display at the Tri-State Fair in Amarillo. This exhibit will show samples of silage crops, the 3 different types of silos and the value of silage in relation to milk production.

Most of the silage in Randall County will be in the silos by the end of next week. The activity of putting up silage started last week and by the end of next week it should all be in the silos.

The process of putting up silage is somewhat different now than it was several years ago. Now the crops are cut and ground in the fields and carried to the silos in trucks. After being dumped into the silo it is packed down, usually by driving a tractor over it and then covered until it is later used. Crops for silage are cut in the green stage in order to get the full benefit of all the nutritious qualities the crop provides.

The crops that are used for silage in this locality are: corn, sargo, milo, can, atlas and hegari.

Some of the men known to be putting up silage are: J. O. Parker, C. W. SoRelle, Joe Carver, Louis Henders, Alvin Kuhlman and Neil Downing, Charles Gerald, C. T. Downing, A. B. Haynes, S. Blasdel and Ed Bourn. Many other men raising beef cattle and dairy stock are also taking advantage of the benefits offered by this method of storing and curing feed.

A short program was put on by each of the dens and den number 2 was selected as having the best program. This honor of the best program for den number 2 resulted in that den retaining the right to keep the pack banner.

All members of the Cub Scouts and committee are encouraged to attend the next meeting which will be held October 15. The monthly meetings are always held on the night of the third Monday of each month.

You're boss every second. Step down on the accelerator and you get an extra spurt of power for hill climbing and passing. Going downhill you can shift to low at any speed for extra engine braking.

Easier rocking! It's even easier to "rock" out of sand, snow or mud with Fordomatic than with Conventional drive. Just move the selector back and forth between low and reverse.

It's a gas-saving powerhouse! Fordomatic's automatic intermediate gear provides smooth, fast, economical "getaway" without wasteful engine racing. Uses no more gas than the savingful conventional Ford.

Cold Wave Brings Varied Reactions From Local Folks

As the cold front continued to move in last week it brought various reactions. The farmer hoped for a general rain. The motorist hoped it wouldn't freeze too hard before it was convenient for him to purchase anti-freeze. The football fans donned heavy clothing and dusted off the gridiron blanket in preparation of the first Buffalo game with the Trinity Tigers.

Dutch Cleavinger reported that the best thing that could happen to the farmers in this area would be a good general rain. The rains that have been falling in the immediate area of Canyon have not reached out far enough to be called general. Only a fraction of an inch was reported to have fallen northwest of town, during the last rains that fell on the vicinity.

This rain seemed to have covered only a narrow strip of territory from northeast to southwest of Canyon. Many farmers did not get enough rain to help their crops. As the cold weather came, farmers slipped into warmer clothing and hoped that a rain would follow. Most farmers already had their supply of anti-freeze but didn't expect to have to use it at this time.

The typical football fan was portrayed by Pat Britain who said, "I'm going home, put on my long handles and go see the football game."

Quarterback Club Met Tuesday and Elected Officers

The weekly meeting of the Quarterback Club was held in the High School Cafeteria Tuesday night. This was the season's second meeting. At the first meeting pictures of last year's game between the Trinity Tigers of San Antonio and the West Texas State College Buffaloes were viewed.

Tuesday night officers were elected for the season. Cliff Milnar was elected as first quarterback. Ben Beck was chosen as second quarterback and John Hunter was selected as third quarterback. The position of Treasurer was filled by A. M. Warren and C. E. Thompson was selected as secretary.

Dues were set at $3.00 per member and the entire public is invited to attend the weekly meetings.

At next week's meeting the pictures of this year's game between the Buffaloes and the Tigers will be shown. All people interested in high school or college athletic activities are encouraged to attend. The weekly meetings are held each Tuesday evening, beginning at 8:00 p. m. in the High School cafeteria.

W. W. Stephenson of Tulsa was a business caller in Canyon Monday and visited with friends of long standing.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Shaver of Knox City are visiting their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Lair.

Mr. and Mrs. I. H. Hollabaugh were dinner guests in the Billy Ray Crow home Sunday night.

Eric Johnston, Economic Stabilizer, is not pleased by the tendency of White House officials to approve almost any raises that union leaders are able to get. Mr. Johnston's intent to resign traces in part to that situation.

Philip Murray, CIO president, will not be able to fulfill his desire to quit his job next year. There are strong signs that the CIO might blow up in an election year without Murray to keep in line the rival CIO leaders.

Gen. Hoyt Vandenberg, Air Force Staff Chief, announced plans for an atomic airplane as a gesture to offset the Navy announcement of an actual order placed for an atomic-powered submarine. Air Force does not want the idea to get around that it does not have first call on atomic power.

President Truman has his eye centered most closely on Senator Harry Byrd, of Virginia, as he maps the White House strategy for 1952. The White House view is that Senator Byrd is the probable leader of any revolt of Southern Democrats that would split the party and open the way for a Republican victory.

A remark by John Snyder, Treasury Secretary, that there still is lots of room for tax increases was not cheered by Democratic politicians who are getting set for the 1952 campaign.

Charles Brannan, Secretary of Agriculture, is beginning to "condition" farm thought for 1952. A play is being made upon latent fear that a new Administration might produce policies that would permit farm prices to fall sharply in relation to other prices.

Government propagandists are looking for a new theory of why Communists do not agree to a real truce in Korea. Original theory that peace would come right after a Japanese peace treaty hasn't panned out.

Rapid Progress Is Being Made in the Palo Duro Paving

"The crossings in Palo Duro Canyon are finished," says John McCarty. Number 4 and 5 crossings are completed and open with crossing No. 4 being the more beautiful of the two.

Tuesday afternoon 3 crossings were laid and these 3 will be finished by Wednesday afternoon. Another task that has been completed is the drainage from crossing No. 6 to the end of the scenic canyon. Workmen started laying the caliche over this section of the road Tuesday morning.

Attendance this year tops that of last year by more than a thousand visitors. Last week a record number of 2012 visitors viewed the breath-taking beauties of the Palo Duro State Park.

In the near future there will be some animal additions to the park that will lend a more picturesque atmosphere to the natural beauty of the canyon. These animals, which consist of a long horn steer, a buffalo, a deer and 2 elk, male and female, age 2 years, are being given to the Park by the Wichita Wildlife Reserve at Cache, Okla. The animals will be placed in the small pasture near the gate so visitors may get a look at them very early in their trip through Palo Duro State Park.

Varied Program at Rotary Club Lunch Presented Tuesday

A program of music and talk by a native of Hawaii were featured Tuesday at the Rotary luncheon.

Dr. James P. Cornette introduced two new members of the faculty who were not present last week when other new faculty members were introduced. Dennis Ford and Holmes Ambrose. Mr. Ambrose is a voice teacher and sang a group of songs, accompanied by Miss Matilda Gaume.

Dr. J. A. Hill, chairman of the International Relations committee, was in charge of the program and introduced a group of Wayland College students. J. L. Harden, business manager of Wayland, was in charge of the group.

Sam Allen sang a group of songs, followed by Miss Koko Maeda, of Hawaii, with solos.

Sam Choi, a native of Hawaii, who later worked in Korea, talked on the need of better relations. He first came to the mainland as a soldier during World War II. He was struck with racial prejudice, which existed in America. When he came back as a student, he found better relations.

Choi plead for better international understanding. The fight is not alone in Korea, but of all Christians against all commies. There are 5 million aliens in USA today, many of whom are commies, working to destroy America. The past history of America is being used against us by the commies, pointing to the needless destruction of the atomic bomb, the destruction of food while there are starving peoples abroad, and other acts of our government. The untrained minds of the orient picture us as barbaric and not caring for the welfare of others.

Throughout the Christian life is the only way that America can save the world from the lies of the commies.

Visitors were: P. M. Hester of Hereford; Bob Martin of Baytown; Marcial Moore of Abilene; W. C. Reynolds of Lubbock; E. C. Wayner, Roy Eastland, Arthur Osgood, Ken Bell, R. G. Mills, Paul Fowler, A. F. Cox, Swede Tolzien, J. E. Womman, all of Amarillo.

NUT HUTSON AND HARRY GILSTRAP SEPT. 5

Persons who are middle-aged or older will recall Mayor John Purroy Mitchel of New York City for whom a great future in national affairs was predicted. But while serving in the armed forces during the First World War I, he fell from a plane to his death.

At a banquet in Little Rock, Ark., a couple of years ago, I was seated by Edwin F. Wagner of Madison, Ill., who served with Mitchel. Wagner declared that Mitchel was a brilliant man but he would get to thinking with such concentration on a subject that he became oblivious to his surroundings.

Wagner's belief is that Mitchel became so preoccupied that he forgot to fasten the safety belt and fell when the plane looped.

"Welcome the arriving, and speed the departing, guest" is an old saying—and the Gunter Hotel in San Antonio does that. For not only is the new arrival made welcome—but the clock in the lobby is always five minutes fast, a fact which startles the departing guest into hurrying to get to station or airport.

And deflation has begun in the Alamo City. You can play six tunes on the jukebox for a quarter, instead of five cents straight. Some folks would prefer, however, to see this particular item cost more and then they would have to listen to fewer fellows with adenoids rendering hillbilly tunes.

"Bringing home the bacon"—everyone knows what that expressive phrase means. The saying goes back to the days when Joe Gans, a Negro, was lightweight champion of the world, along about 1906. A newspaperman, interviewing Gans' mother, asked what kind of man her son was. She replied, "Joe always brings home the bacon."

Who was it who said, "What this country needs most is not a five-cent cigar; it needs a five-cent nickel?"

New Members Are Installed at Lions Club Luncheon

The Canyon Lions Club roared to the tune of three new members at last Wednesday's luncheon. At least two men who have enjoyed several free meals will now have to start paying for those delicious lunches. These two are Lawrence Hunsbuck of the Canyon News and Harold Wetzel, business administrator of the Neblett Hospital. Third new member was the Rev. Strauss Atkinson, newly installed pastor of Canyon's First Baptist Church, who transferred his membership from the Kermit Lions.

After the new members were sworn in, the program was turned over to the Rev. Strauss Atkinson. He fell back on the Bible verse for his subject. He pointed out the importance of Jesus' words of "Render unto Caesar those things which belong unto Caesar and unto God those things that belong unto God." The wisdom of these words is just as great today as when they were uttered nearly two thousand years ago, related the minister.

By rendering unto our government the things which belong unto our government and unto God the things that belong unto God, we will enjoy greater prosperity as well as greater individual satisfaction, the speaker pointed out. All too often juvenile delinquents arise as a result of parents who pay little attention to religion. Government and religion are important to the progress of our nation was the theme put over by the minister's speech.

In addition to the new members, the Lions welcomed 4 visitors. These were E. T. Cummings, John Bowden, T. V. Crounse and Dr. M. B. Measmer.

After a punishing 50,000-mile road test, with proper drains and regular care, engines lubricated with new Conoco Super Motor Oil showed no wear of any consequence: in fact, an average of less than one one-thousandth inch on cylinders and crankshafts. Swisher Gas & Equipment Co. Rates High

With the ever-increasing demand for butane and propane gas for home, agricultural and industrial use, Tom Durham's Swisher Gas & Equipment Co., 331 N. 87th Ave. in Tulia, have made an enviable record. They keep abreast with the times and have equipped themselves with the latest type of trucks for safe, speedy delivery. The percentage of users of butane gas for agriculture and irrigation purposes served by Swisher Gas & Equipment Co. is probably the highest in the district because they can be depended upon to "Put It Where You Want It—When You Want It."

Tom Durham has seen to it that they handle the very top lines of Carburetors, featuring ENSIGN and ALGAS which have proved their efficiency and economy. They install complete butane and propane systems for homes, farms and industries and will gladly furnish cost estimates.

Swisher Gas & Equipment Co. are agents for FLASH-OTRAC SYSTEMS which, for tractors, doubles the life of the motor and cuts fuel costs 50% and reduces repair bills to a minimum. They render the very best of field service on repairs and can be reached in Tulia by phoning 171 by day, and 479-W or 378-W at nights.

Complete customer satisfaction is the goal to which Tom Durham has strived, coupled with their high standards, quality products and progressive business policies which have done much to aid in the advancement of agriculture in this area. They are leaders in their field and merit the goodwill and patronage of users of butane and propane gases throughout Swisher and Randall Counties. We are glad in this review edition of our paper to recommend this outstanding Tulia concern to our many readers and wish them continued success in the years to come.

NEW IDEA, AT LEAST

If you have any back-seat drivers in your family, don't tell them this. A Virginia court ruled that a passenger in the back seat was guilty of negligence for failing to advise the driver how to avoid an accident.

POSSIBLE

Rhode Island's excellent record in highway safety over the years can probably be ascribed to the fact that by the time the driver gets out of low he's also out of Rhode Island.

UP TO THE COURT

A Texas man, arrested for drunk-driving, claimed the cop smelled hair oil. The court will decide whether the man or his hair was plastered.

Eugene Rachlis Here on Visit From Duties in Europe With Relief Group

Eugene Rachlis, son-in-law of the Rev. J. R. Sharp, has been visiting friends and relatives here. Rachlis had a long and interesting career in newspaper work to his credit when he went to work with the ECA about 2 1/2 years ago. This interesting work of furthering American ideas has resulted in extensive travel for Rachlis. At present he is Deputy Chief of Operations in the European information division of the ECA.

More than 1 year of Rachlis' ECA career was spent in Holland and the past 14 months have been spent in Paris, France. The wide travels and experiences, in relation to his work, have resulted in a vast knowledge of the European theater and the attitude of its peoples in relation to democracy and communism.

Rachlis believes that two of the greatest factors in spreading the American way of life have been the Marshall Plan and General Eisenhower's assignment in Europe. In fact, it's Rachlis' belief that the cold war is merely a war of ideas. We're trying to sell the peoples of the world on the idea of democracy and the Russians are trying to sell the idea of communism.

The ECA staff, that has its headquarters in Paris, is made up of 80 Americans and 250 Europeans of approximately twenty nationalities.

They work closely with such organizations as unions and clubs all over Europe. By working through these organizations, they promote democratic ideas in a way that the peoples of those countries desire. In other words, the ideas are given to the leaders and leading organizations of a certain country and these leaders and organizations pass the ideas on the general public. By handling it this way a warmer relation is enjoyed by all of the countries concerned.

The ECA uses posters, exhibits, radio, magazines, newspapers, research and distribution shops to promote the democratic idea. These mediums are used skillfully and carefully in order to get the exact message to the people which is intended. An error or a misunderstanding in this work could prove of grave danger in these perilous times. Some of the props that have been used by ECA are a train and a caravan. The train was viewed by approximately 80,000,000 people and the caravan by about 3,000,000.

During recent polls it has been proven that between 70 and 80% of the European peoples know about the Marshall Plan. That plan has been the economic support so desperately needed by these countries. When communism grew into a near and great threat, Eisenhower was assigned the job of building a military defense.

Before Eisenhower was sent to Europe the people in almost all of the smaller countries registered fear of communism through invasion by Russia. According to Rachlis, this was the only negative reply to democratic progress. Now that Eisenhower is building up a military defense there is greater confidence on the part of these people. They are building up their countries as well as their individual courage.

Greece is the one exception in the way the ECA distributes information. In Greece it seems that the people will believe Americans rather than their own nationality. Because of this, the information that is distributed there is given as coming from the United States.

If you want to know what our money bought in Europe, it's time, reported Rachlis. This time has been used wisely and a great reserve strength has been built up. This is the pivoting type of strength that can be used either for war or peace. The communist strength is on the decline, says Rachlis.

Boston born, Rachlis professes a warm feeling for the plains country and admits that it's his adopted home. In fact he came here before visiting Boston when he received his one month leave. This is his first visit to the United States during his 2 1/2 years with ECA. His is the voice of experience when he talks of the pleasant atmosphere in connection with the wide open spaces and the feeling of freedom it gives.

Pooling Rides Is Featured by Many Local Citizens

Sharing what you have with others is a great American tradition. This tradition becomes more widely extended during time of need and that is one of the reasons why car pools became popular during World War II. At that time gasoline was rationed and obtaining tires was almost an impossibility. For this reason car owners cooperated in taking turns of driving their cars and took other people to work. Now, 6 years after the war, these car pools are still popular because they are serving a good purpose.

It has been reported that a number of these car pools are still in operation here. Mrs. Emmitt Smith is operating a car pool from the college. For the past 6 years Elva Fromabarger has been driving across town and has a number of riders.

Some of those who are active in forming car pools work out of town. For instance, there's Mrs. Olga Seales, who works in Amarillo. She has a number of people in her pool who save both time and money by riding to and from work with her. Then there's Larry Holman, an Amarillo teacher, who has 3 persons riding back and forth with him.

If there's anything to the old saying that, 'the proof of the pudding, is in the eating,' car pools have stood the test to prove themselves an asset to the American way of life. The merit of this relation has shown the car pool to be a good and true American practice.

Confusion Results Of Many New Laws Regarding Trucks

Confusion by way of technicalities has descended upon Bill Money and his staff in the Randall County Tax office. These confusing technicalities have saturated the tax office atmosphere to the extent that the staff fully realizes the meaning of the old adage, 'when it rains, it pours.'

In the Canyon area, where many wheat and cattle trucks are operated and registered, the new laws affecting registration of such trucks are extremely important. The new laws went into effect September 7.

The weight to be carried by the truck was to be arranged according to the units of the truck. That unit led to a great deal of confusion. Some counties were registering the trucks that pulled a semi-trailer as two units. One unit consisted of the tractor part while the other unit was made up by the trailer section. Other counties were considering the entire tractor and trailer as one unit.

When truck drivers and owners tried to get the matter cleared, they found out that the men in the tax office knew very little more about the matter than they themselves. The men in the tax office tried to get the matter cleared up with state officials and learned that the issue was foggy even to the highest officials in the state. For the time being, at least, there's a definite ruling that both tractor and semi-trailer comprise only one unit.

The weight and lengths of the trucks are regulated and the gross load limit is 58,420. Special permits for a heavier load can be obtained by taking out a $10,000.00 bond.

Thursday, September 13, E. J. Amey, head of the state highway department in Austin, conducted a meeting in Bill Money's office. In this meeting the problem of the truck unit was cleared up. There was also a promise of further clearing of the technical fog by way of a letter from the office of the attorney general.

One of the laws will affect the owners of all cars and trucks in the state of Texas. This is the law requiring inspection and registration slips as well as the title of the car or truck to be registered. These papers must be presented at the time of registration. One of the main gripes of the tax officials is that many people are careless about car titles. A lost title creates difficult problems for these officials as well as the owner of the vehicle.

Local Men Will Be Targets at the Tri-State Fair

What's your pleasure, treasure, may well be one of the featured attractions at the Amarillo Tri-State Fair this year. Among the people who are apt to get a good dunking for a good cause are Gene McGlasson, Burney Slack, T. H. Lair, Bill Money, Chief of Police John King, and perhaps Sheriff M. E. Cantrell.

An attempt is being made to get some sportsmen to take a sporting chance on getting soused. Among the sportsmen who will be asked to sit on the precarious seat are such men as Frank Kimbrough, West Texas State College football coach, and Bill Defee, Amarillo High School football coach.

Other dignitaries to be taking a chance at the throwing arm and eye of the public will be Morris Cobb, Johnny Linn, and Gene Klein.

The upshot of it all is that these men will take turns at sitting over a tank of water. The person who throws the ball accurately enough to trip the lever will send the victim plunging into the water for a good dunking.

The worthy cause to which the money will go is the Crippled Children's Fund for the analysis and return to normal of the children stricken by crippling diseases. This concession will be operated from the 24th to the 29th of September. The barkers will be Mrs. Ruth Hill and Mrs. Ethel Mullins.

All you have to do is pick the man you want to duck. Wait until he scales the heights to the seat above the water. Pay the price of tossing the ball and be sure you hit what you're throwing at. If your aim is true you'll have the additional satisfaction of knowing that the money you spent will be used for a worthy cause.

Miss Jane Hales, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Hales, 3508 Tyler, Amarillo, left Monday to complete her senior year of work at Texas Tech, Lubbock.

Mrs. Will Sharpley of Corsicana has returned after visiting in the home of her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Knighton.

George Bourianoll, son of Mrs. G. G. Bourianoll, has been moved from Corpus Christi to the Gonzales Polio Convalescent Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. S. V. Cunningham and family of Lubbock visited in his brother's home, the A. M. Cunninghams, over the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Lowe and daughter, Billie Jean, of Gruver, visited in the G. B. Combs home Tuesday and Wednesday.

Eagles Defeated Happy in Home Game at Happy

The Eagles sailed over the Happy Cowboys Friday night for a 24 to 13 victory. The Cowboys rallied behind star Buddy Selvidge and dangerously threatened to hit pay dirt during the first quarter. A series of fumbles were exchanged as the ball went from Eagles to the Cowboys and back again to the Eagles.

The first morale building play for the Eagles was a long run by Bob Ratliff. In the first play after this run a 5 yard penalty was slapped on the Cowboys for being offside. This gave the Eagles a first down and about 5 yards to cover for that first touchdown. On the next play the Eagles were fined 5 yards and the ball went back to its previous position. Tommy Middleton took the pigskin on the next play and carried it 1 yard shy of pay dirt. The Eagles tightened their line on the next play and Bob Ratliff dashed across the goal line for the evening's first score. The kick failed to make the extra point and the score stood at 6 to nothing.

Both teams tightened up and at the half the score still stood 6 to nothing with the Eagles out front. The Eagles took to the air in a successful play that netted a 30 yard gain. The next try at a pass was a heartbreaking interception by Buddy Selvidge of the Cowboys.

The next spectacular play came as Harold Slack picked up about 30 yards for the Eagles. Bob Ratliff took the ball on the next play and carried the ball to the very portals of the goal posts. Tommy Middleton commanded the ball next and drove through the Cowboy line for the second Eagle T. D.

By the final quarter the Eagles were flying high as the morale of the Cowboys sagged. When the Cowboys got the ball the Eagles line held them to small gains. The Cowboys pulled every trick from their gridiron bag and made a good showing in the middle of the field but they just couldn't push the ball across the goal line. It usually ended up with Selvidge getting off of a hole at the fourth down.

Giving Us the Bird

Going into the air again, the Eagles came back to the threshold of the goal line. Another pass was good for the third touchdown. After scoring, the Eagles kicked-off to the Cowboys and the Happy team fumbled. In the first play after this recovery, Bob Ratliff showed his ability at broken field running in a gain that was good for a first down. From then on the Cowboy line grew tighter. The Eagles clawed their way foot-by-foot for the fourth touchdown.

The Cowboys were spurring at the Eagles in desperation as the final minutes of the game ticked off. With only a few minutes left to play, Forrest Bowe determinedly clutched the pigskin, nimbly booted his way some 70 yards for the first Cowboy touchdown.

A new strategy had been used in getting off the kick. Instead of sending the ball to the far end of the field, the Cowboys made short kicks that went skimming across the top of the grass diagonally to the sideline. The Eagles were caught off guard and fumbled the ball and the Cowboys recovered.

The Cowboys turned on everything they had during those last few seconds of the game. Their line held while Buddy Selvidge galloped 50 yards for the second touchdown. The extra point was converted to end the game at a 24 to 13 victory for the Eagles.

Land Owners to Vote on Question Water District

Randall county farmers made very few recommendations to the Department of Agriculture, when invited recently to suggest improvements in the various agricultural programs.

The agencies of the Department of Agriculture conducted a survey under the direction of the department in what was termed a Family Farm Policy review.

In this survey a review of current programs was given in open forum meetings of farmers in agricultural counties all over the United States. Recommendations were made by farmers and transmitted to Washington through the State Agricultural Mobilization committees.

Some changes in the farm price support program which have been proposed by some groups were not approved by farmers in this area. The principle of one of these was a suggestion that payments be made direct to farmers for the difference between market prices below supports and the support price. Farmers in most cases are opposed to this method of price support.

No recommendations were made for changes in the soil and moisture conservation programs, except that county committees should be given more leeway in the administration of the programs and that more educational work on soil conservation be done.

In this agricultural review it was brought out that only about 2% of the National budget goes for all agriculture. The Agricultural Conservation Program which is administered by the Production and Marketing Administration gets only about four-tenths of one percent of the National budget.

Just Between You, Me, and The Gatepost

What Canyon needs, besides a new and modern hotel, a few traffic lights on the square and some additional boulevard stop signs, is a city bus service. If you don't believe this just get yourself stranded down near the college and have to walk back to town. If the day is hot you'll literally water the lawns on your way up town with the sweat from your brow. If it's a cold day in winter time, which will be here before long, you're likely to feel that you've done a walking marathon to the north pole and back. Yep, what this town needs, among other things, is a good city bus service.

Once upon a time there was a great philosopher who said, "a fool can find more mistakes in a minute than a wise man can correct in a life time." Humm-m, you know the guy might have known what he was talking about. But there is a difference in procrastination of progress and out-and-out mistakes.

The back room of The Canyon News is really humming with renewed activity now that college and the Canyon Public Schools are holding classes again. Superintendent Wooten was in last week to inform us that students in public school classes got into the routine of school very quickly this year. At the end of last week there was a burst of activity in getting out the football programs for the first West Texas State College Buffalo game. Jerry Woods, who was operating one of the machines that was habitually getting clogged and irritatingly holding up the works, said, "every time I got on my knees behind that machine I wasn't praying."

Out at West Texas State College you'll find the forlorn atmosphere booting off the campus by the smiling faces of many students. The college has shifted into high gear this week with the first full week of classes in the new fall term. The flowers and the grass that have kept a vigil over the campus during the summer vacation now seem tired, weary and completely ready to fade out of the picture with the coming of the first fall frosts. Now that students grace the campus there's a new atmosphere of activity all over West Texas State College.

By this time the students have probably recovered from the physical rigors of registering to the extent of enjoying school activities.

There's some action being taken in trying to get some new housing units for veterans and veteran students in Canyon. Dudley Bayne mentioned it last week at Lions Club luncheon and promised a more thorough discussion this week. It would be nice to get some more new housing units that would not have excessively high rent attached. One of the most worthwhile and progressive acts of any town is that of providing adequate housing for all the citizens.

Speaking of housing brings to mind that modern hotel which is a dream of many Canyon folks. Several have expressed their desire for such a hotel. Some have even gone far enough to say that the hotel is long overdue.

Joke department: It seems that a judge looked over the evidence in a case that was being tried in his court and said, "this robbery was cleverly carried out." The blushing prisoner looked at the judge and said, "no flattery, please, your honor."

Then there was the Eastern reporter who covered a Texas rodeo. He was surprised to see a man, obviously near 60 years of age, win the bull dogging contest. During his interview with the bull dogger, the reporter was amazed to learn that the rodeo contestant's father was still living and was a wrestler. Upon learning this the reporter said, "I would like to interview your father. Where is he?"

"The bull dogger grinned as he answered this question, 'he's at my grand father's wedding.'"

"Your grand father!" exclaimed the bewildered reporter. "How old is your grand father?" he asked.

"Ninety-eight," answered the bull dogger.

"Why does a man 98 years old want to get married?" the reporter asked.

The elderly cowboy stroked his chin, looked straight at the reporter and said, "he didn't want to."

Oh well, perhaps the joke department has grown whiskers too.

Business fell off in the complaint department last week when folks could no longer quarrel about the heat. The cold wave plunged the temperature down to a level where a coat was a comfort. It also reminded the folks that autumn is almost here. This is the time of year that brings new activities and new ambitions. Old father time is easing us right into the time of year that is famous for holidays.

FARM SHARE

The Agriculture Department reports that the farmer's share of the average dollar consumers spent for farm foods was about 49 cents in June and July, the lowest for any month this year. Prices received by farmers for food products in July were almost five per cent below the record reached in February this year, but the retail price remained substantially the same.

EDUCATION

The Federal Government spent $3,617,518,287 on educational programs in the fiscal year 1950. While the government has no national system of education as such, almost every Federal agency carried out one or more educational programs, with the Veterans Administration spending the most money.

Rats Constitute Huge Economic Waste in State

Because of the economic losses they cause to industry and commerce and the annoyance they create in homes, rats have been considered a serious menace to mankind since long before their role as vectors of disease was understood. Today at least six diseases which are transmitted to man from the rat are known to medical science, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. These diseases include the dread plague, typhus, trichinosis, a form of jaundice, tapeworm, and food poisoning. The whole history of the role rats play in the transmission of disease remains as yet unknown.

"It is necessary to public health," Dr. Cox said, "that a continuous rat control program be maintained in every urban and rural area throughout Texas. This is of especial importance on farms where rats may flourish by feeding on grain and other farm products."

The doctor pointed out that rats, like other living things, require food and shelter if they are to propagate and increase in number. Destroying their shelter and breeding places includes the employing of ratproof design in buildings, the use of rat-proof materials in construction, employing ratproof methods of construction and installation, and providing for periodic inspection of buildings to insure permanent safety. This program will force the rat out into the open where its destruction may be accomplished.

Of equal importance as a control measure is the elimination of all food supplies. This consists of storing all foods in ratproof buildings or in ratproof containers, the proper storage and disposal of garbage, and careful feeding of stock to prevent waste feed from being picked up by the rats.

By observing these control measures, the community will benefit not only in the eradication of a nuisance and economic menace but in improved health conditions and the prevention of rat-borne diseases.

FARM INCOME

American net farm income this year may be almost as much as the 1947 all-time high of $17,800,000,000, according to the Agriculture Department. In addition, American farm land values increased a record five per cent during the four-month period ending July 1, and may remain at present levels the rest of the year in most areas.

SHORT STORY Easy Touch

By Ona Freeman Lathrop

THE KID HAD BEEN following him for two blocks now. How was a guy to pick up any spare dough with a goggle-eyed urchin at his heels? You couldn't do it, that's all. He turned and waited for the kid to catch up.

"Say, beat it, will you? G'wan home. This is a tough neighborhood. Your ma'll be worried about you."

The kid dug his frazzled shoe in the dirt. He was a skinny little rat under the ragged gray sweater and the thin patched jeans, once you took a good look at him. His tow hair hung in little wisps from under the old torn cap, but his big brown eyes looked trusting. You couldn't hit a kid with eyes like that. Hank Nolan winced as he remembered how he'd always been an old softie for brown eyes.

The kid whined, "I'm hungry. There's nothin' for supper. I thought—"

"Well, you thought wrong. I'm not eatin' either. I'm broke—you hear me? Broke, I said." Now why did the kid's eyes have to bore through you like that? Why couldn't he go along home? Hank tried once more. "Now you git for home!"

When he glanced back a minute later, the kid was standing still in his tracks. Hank ambled on toward the bright lights. If Katy hadn't jumped on him like that when he got home, he wouldn't be feeling so lousy and low. Always harping about him getting a steady job.

"You're just a lazy good-for-nothing bum any more, Hank Nolan," she'd told him. "Not working half the time. How do you expect me to keep the table set on nickels and dimes? There are plenty of jobs, even if they aren't your line. Either you get one or get out of here and don't come back. I'm sick of this." And she'd slammed the door behind him.

Well, let her rave. If he couldn't get his old job back—the kind he had before he went to the army—he wasn't going to take any old job that came along.

A FELLOW WAS staggering out of Scotty's tavern. He had on a good dark suit and soft fedora. Probably had a week's pay in his pocket, except what he'd left at Scotty's. Looked like an easy touch. Hank dodged back into the doorway of Mel's Eat Shop, with its ever-present pancake grill in the window turning up golden-brown cakes and its usual sign on the door. "Waiter Wanted." Ha! That was a laugh. "Waiter Wanted." Juggling trays in a joint like that!

The fellow was coming this way all right. He'd be here in a minute. Hank glanced up and down the street to see if there were any cops in sight. Not a soul—for once the street was deserted—except the kid. The fellow was shuffling along close to Mel's place now. It would be a cinch—would have been a cinch, Hank thought. But he couldn't do it. Not with those big, brown

Iron Is Found Abundant In Oceans of the World

The oceans of the world are "liquid mines." Among other elements they contain an iron-bearing mineral called glauconite, which is a close chemical relative of the taconites found in the sedimentary rock deposits of the Lake Superior Region.

Glauconite, a greenish, granular mineral, is deposited slowly near the mudline along seacoasts at depths of 600 to 5,000 feet, away from large or swiftly flowing rivers. That mineral, which contains about 23 per cent iron, is formed when shell fish, after death, become filled with fine mud which contains iron leached from rocks on the land.

The sulphates in sea water react with the flesh of the shell fish to form iron sulphide which in turn reacts with dissolved oxygen to form ferric hydroxide. This, with silica and potassium contained in the sea water, forms glauconite, the iron-bearing mineral of the sea. It is thought that bacteria play an important part in the reaction.

Iron is also present in sea water in organic form, that is, in a form produced by animal or plant action. The iron, originally in inorganic form derived from the leaching of rocks, is removed from solution by plankton. These are primitive, usually minute, marine or fresh water plants and animals, often found in colonies. They are basic foods for fishes and marine animals in whose bodies relatively high concentrations of many elements may be found.

In addition to concentrating silicon, calcium and phosphorus, some sea creatures concentrate alloying metals used in steelmaking. That concentration is so low, however, that it is improbable that commercial use will be made of any of them in the foreseeable future. Lobsters, for example, concentrate cobalt; oysters concentrate copper; scallops concentrate nickel; sea slugs and a sea animal called an ascidian concentrate vanadium, while mussels and plankton concentrate manganese.

Former Oil Waste Products Bring Farms Comfort of City

A former waste product at the nation's oil fields and refineries, liquefied petroleum gas, now brings comforts and conveniences to more than 7½ million families in farm, small town and suburban areas. LP-Gas, also popularly known as butane, propane, bottled and tank gas, is used to operate a variety of "take-life-easy" appliances.

Ranges with automatic ovens can be set to turn on and off, although the meal planner may be miles away. Self-regulating LP-Gas water heaters provide hot water for every family need from dishwashing to showers and shaving. Thermostat controlled space heaters and central heating plants keep homes at pre-selected, even temperatures and deliver clean heat.

LP-Gas clothes dryers eliminate the back-breaking chore of hanging up the wash. Regardless of the weather, in a matter of minutes, they turn out fluffy towels or clothes just moist enough for ironing. Quiet, incinerators do away with the smell and mess of garbage disposal.

Bad weather doesn't interrupt the year-round service of LP-Gas appliances either. Each home has an independent fuel supply in tanks or containers on the premises.

Don't Bribe

Don't let Junior go into business with his own health by giving him a penny or a nickel to take his medicine. According to the editors of Childcraft books, giving a child money if he takes his cod liver oil is actually bribery and teaches the child that money is an acceptable means of getting him to do something he would prefer not to do. Although it is difficult, the child must be patiently taught the difference between things he does for his own good and things for which he can expect pay—such as special chores for a neighbor. The association of parents and children in the family unit should be one of mutual help and understanding. It has a value in itself which cannot be put on a cash basis. Money as a reward for being good only clouds the issue and gives children a distorted sense of values.

Geriatrics

Geriatrics (from a Greek word meaning "old age") is the branch of medicine which deals with treatment of the elderly patient. It is becoming increasingly important as medical advances make it possible for people to live much longer than formerly. In 1900, for example, there were about 3,000,000 men and women over 65 in the United States, or about 4 per cent of the population.

Frog Color

Frogs have black pigment cells in their skin which they can contract or expand. When they are enlarged, the animal appears dark, while it is paler when the pigment cells are contracted. Frogs can take in oxygen through their skin, and do so during hibernation, getting oxygen that is dissolved in the water and diffusing out in the opposite direction the carbon dioxide that their bodies produce. This is a rather inefficient method of taking in oxygen, but a hibernating frog does not need very much.

Trinity Whipped Buffs Saturday

The Trinity Tigers clawed the West Texas State Buffaloes for a 19 to 7 victory in cold, wet, Amarillo Stadium Saturday night. Center Bob Kelley, a mainstay in the Buffalo line was carried from the game in the third quarter.

The Buffaloes scored first in the latter part of the first period. Joe Ogden carried the ball to pay dirt after a 57 yard gallop. During that quarter the West Texas Buffaloes looked like the border winning champs of 1950. The show was all theirs during this quarter of the game but the snarling Tigers snatched the spotlight after the first quarter ended.

The chilly rain that was falling gave the pigskin a slippery surface that twice prevented the Tigers from scoring. The Buffalo defense, which was believed to be their strongest point, leaked like a sieve after the first quarter. Some of the Tigers who clawed their way to glory were Dalton Klaus, Francis Meyer and little Andy Kalmanir. The three trips across the goal line for the Tigers were all the result of long runs.

The Buffalo herd rallied during the final minutes of the game and looked as if they might score as they took to the air with passes. They worked the ball down to the Tiger 44 yard line but could not paw their way through the Tiger line for the two touchdowns and the extra point they so desperately needed.

How long big Bob Kelley will be out of the line is not known. Another thing that is not known is what to expect when the Buffaloes meet Texas Tech's Red Raiders. This unscouted team has a new coach and a new formation. The Buffaloes will meet them next Saturday night in Lubbock and you can bet your cleats that the Raiders will be screaming for revenge after last year's defeat at the pawing hooves of the Buffaloes.

Hank let the fellow go on past. He faded into the Eat Shop. Mel was at the cash register by the door. There was a nose flattened against the outside of the pancake window, and two big brown eyes were peering through hungrily at the steaming cakes.

"That job still open for a waiter, Mel?" Hank asked.

"Sure is, Hank. You want to begin right now? We're in a jam."

"Be glad to," Hank answered. "If you could advance me a dollar or two." He pocketed the dollar bills Mel flipped to him and opened the door. "Be right back," he called to Mel.

And then to the big brown eyes he said, "Here, kid, take this home to your ma and tell her to get something good for supper. Tell her her old man's got a steady job at last. And eat yourself a good meal tonight."

The brown eyes—so much like Katy's—stared. "Gee, thanks Pop. Be seein' you." And the ragged sweater went shooting out of sight down the street. Hank swaggered in like a new man and put on the white apron Mel handed him.

Good Deed Is Cause Of Commotion in City Public Schools

A mysterious person and a good deed of heart warming interest created a flurry of comment at Canyon Public School Thursday. The good deed was a simple courtesy that anyone might give and yet it was of heart tugging importance because it involved the safety of the youngsters at school. The young children, first and second graders, were pouring across 6th Avenue just south of the school house to the playground as a motorist came up the street. Instead of weaving and honking his way through the crowd of children crossing the street the motorist pulled the car off to one side of the street and stopped until all the children were across.

Many teachers and older students watched the courteous act but none thought to get the license number of the car. It was later that the idea of learning who the motorist might be and sending a letter of appreciation for the courteous act performed, was decided upon. Superintendent Wooten would like very much to know who the courteous person was in order to write such a letter.

Since the beginning of school one of the fears of the teachers is that a first or second grade child will be hurt while crossing 6th Avenue to get to the playground. The older children have presence of mind to watch out for the cars but the younger children, those of the first and second grades, are so excitedly happy about being free from classes and so eager to get to the playground that they seldom look for cars. On the other hand, the motorist of today seems to think that the street has only one function and that's to provide a means of getting to town quickly. With these two points of view, being as far apart as the two poles, the teachers feared that some injury might come to a youngster while crossing the street.

If you're a courteous motorist and find yourself driving by the grade school at recess time, it may take you a couple of minutes to get past the youngsters. If you're not a courteous driver you may make it in a matter of seconds but you're gambling with terribly high stakes. What you're doing, literally, is betting a couple of minutes of your time that you don't injure or kill a child. Any normal person who first stops and thinks for a moment will not dare drive recklessly where a child's life is in danger.

The simple courtesy portrayed by the mysterious motorist has warmed the hearts of the entire faculty. Other motorists can get the same effect with the same simple courtesy. It's just a little thing but it means so much to a school faculty and a group of youngsters that are little more than babies.

Commissioners of Moore County Have Taken Recreation

The Commissioners Court of Moore County has taken over the support of the recreation program which will be started this fall in that county. The court underwrote a budget of $8,550 for the support of the program.

Canyon is the smallest town in the nation to undertake the recreation program, but several other towns of this area have been interested in the project and advised with local authorities about the program.

The financial program is not going so well locally as it did last year, states local citizens who are interested in the project. While more people are paying to the support of the program than last year, the amounts have been smaller. The large contributors of last year have so far made no contribution to the project.

West Texas State Memorial Chapel Is Scene For Wimberly-Boston Wedding

In a beautiful simple ceremony in the West Texas State Memorial Chapel, Miss June Wimberly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl V. Wimberly of Canyon, became the bride of Pfc. Charles Boston, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. T. Boston of Shamrock, on Saturday, September 15, at 7 o'clock in the evening.

The Rev. Strauss Atkinson, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Canyon, read the double ring ceremony before an altar banked by candelabra bearing lighted white tapers. The gold vases upon the altar contained arrangements of purple asters.

Preceding the ceremony, H. R. Fulton Jr., organist, played "Poeme" by Fichib and "Consolation" by Mendelssohn. To introduce the ceremony, Mrs. H. R. Fulton Jr. sang "The Ring" by Schumann, accompanied at the organ by Mr. Fulton. The traditional wedding marches were used for the processional and recessional.

Attending the bride was her sister, Mrs. Bill J. Montgomery, of Amarillo, matron-of-honor. She was attired in a purple velvet suit with matching hat and carried a cascade bouquet of purple asters. Bill J. Montgomery, brother-in-law of the bride, served the bridegroom as best man.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose for her wedding a two-piece dress of biege satin, fashioned with a fitted bodice extending into a pleated peplum, a small stand-up collar, long cuffed sleeves, and accented with rhinestone buttons down the front. Her half-hat was covered with tulle caught up on one side in a bow, and sprinkled with rhinestones. She wore a rhinestone necklace which was a gift from the bridegroom. Her bouquet was of orchids showered with Stephanotis.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Wimberly wore a black and gold crepe dress with black accessories, and a gardenia corsage.

Mrs. Boston, mother of the bridegroom, wore a brown faille suit with rose and brown accessories and her corsage was also of gardenias.

A reception was held for the bridal party immediately following the wedding, at the home of the bride's parents.

Following the reception the couple left on a wedding trip to Lake Murray, Oklahoma. For traveling the bride wore a gray flannel suit, complimented with gray flannel accessories. She wore a corsage of Vanda orchids.

After September 20, the couple will be at home in Wichita Falls, where the bridegroom is stationed at Shepard Field, serving with the United States Air Force.

Mrs. Boston attended West Texas State College in Canyon and received her B. S. degree in music. She was a member of Alpha Chi National Honorary Fraternity, Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges, and Gamma Phi Sorority. For the past two years she has been a member of the West Texas State College Music faculty.

Mr. Boston is also a graduate of West Texas State and attended the University of Texas where he was a member of Phi Kappa Sigma National Fraternity.

ENTERTAINS WITH FISH FRY FRIDAY NIGHT, SEPTEMBER 14

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Marshall entertained with a fish fry in the backyard of their home Friday night, September 14. Friends and relatives attended and visited during the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Longbine have returned from a two weeks vacation to South Carolina.

Kettering, at 75, optimistic on prospects of peace and plenty.

Well, we got back to Washington after a most enjoyable trip to the district. The shortness of the time would not permit me to visit all of the places that I wanted to, but an early adjournment of Congress would make it possible for me to be back and visit the places that I failed to get to on this last trip. We came back to Washington by the northern route, that is, Highway 66 to St. Louis and Highway 40 through Indianapolis and Columbus into Pennsylvania and then down to Washington. We got to ride on the Pennsylvania Toll Turnpike for about 90 miles. It cost us 85 cents, and was well worth it. There are no side roads coming into the Turnpike and you can set your speed on this four-lane divided highway and sail right along. You can't get on the Turnpike except at toll gates, which are spaced about 25 or 30 miles apart. This turnpike is supposed to be paying its own way and may be the answer to the highway situation in many of the states. We finally made it into Washington about 3:00 a. m. Wednesday and were pretty well worn out from the trip.

The Senate has caught up with a lot of work during the recess of the House and we are again back at work on the important legislative matters that must be finished if Congress is to adjourn any time this fall. The raise in the military appropriations by the Senate is receiving much discussion here, as many of the members realize that Five Billion dollars is a whale of a lot of money. There is also much discussion about the Senate version of the tax bill. Many of the members feel that the Senate version will tend to put too much of the burden on the lower and middle income groups and will not operate like the House bill, which fairly distributes the burden across the board. The nature of the tax raise in the House is temporary in principle, while the Senate version appears to have a certain degree of permanency. The need for additional taxes at the present time can only be justified by military requirements for defense purposes and should be on a temporary basis.

The American taxpayer is entitled to a substantial reduction in taxes as soon as the nucleus of the defense program is well underway. If the additional taxes are placed on a permanent basis, it will be very difficult to effect the substantial reduction that I feel should be forthcoming within the next two or three years.

I have received inquiries concerning the new income tax regulations on the sale of one's home. Under the present law if you sell your residence, you are selling a capital asset and fifty percent of the profit is includable in gross income provided you have owned the home for more than six months. If you have owned it for less than six months, the entire profit is includable in gross income. Under the new version, the Revenue Act of 1951, as passed by the House, a person may sell his home and repurchase another home within a period beginning one year prior to the date of such sale and ending one year after such date and use the proceeds to purchase another home. If he uses the entire proceeds from his old home to purchase the new home, he will not be required to pay any income tax on the sale price of his old home. However, if he purchases a new home at a less price than that for which he sold his old home, he of course will be required to account for the difference between the purchase price of his new home and the selling price of his old home.

CURIOSITY SAVES LIFE

Newton, Mass. — The curiosity of Eleanor Wightman, 9, about the presence of a "turtle" in a wading pool probably saved the life of her 2-year-old brother, Joseph. Seeing "bubbles coming up," the girl ran to her mother to tell her that a "turtle" was in the pool. The mother investigated, dragged through the water with a rake and caught the dungarees of the youngest of her seven children. Artificial respiration revived the child.

CLEAN SWEEP IN BROOM BUSINESS—This broom factory has the industry all to itself in the Schenectady, N. Y., area where a century ago the broom business brought $120,000 a year into what was then one of the nation's broom-making centers. George J. Kranick is shown doing his bit to keep the district's business alive. Which is witches' favorite model? Well, performance data on brooms in foreground are being withheld until after Halloween.

by the next census there will be more than 700,000 aged persons in the state.

Nationally only about 23 per cent of the people over 65 receive pensions. Texas' ratio is higher because, partly at least, we are not yet as industrialized as other areas, and relatively fewer Texans get into the social security program.

Herein, Mr. Winters thinks, lies the answer to the problem.

It is the extension of the social security program and inclusion in it of many persons who do not now participate.

Under the program, as most wage-earners know, the worker pays 1½ per cent of his salary into the social security fund, and his employer matches that by paying another 1½ per cent.

These payments apply on the first $3,600 per year of a worker's pay if he earns more than that amount.

When he reaches retirement age, the money is returned to him in the form of monthly checks, depending upon how much he has paid into the fund.

Under this plan, it is the worker himself, and his employer, who build up the fund which he will use as a means of livelihood when his working days are over. The plan, as Mr. Winters points out, has many advantages.

First of all, it removes old persons from the assistance rolls and thus obviates the necessity of raising tax money to support them. This is, of course, a great relief to the taxpayer.

Secondly, it permits the aged person to retain his self-respect; instead of looking to the state for charity, he lives on that part of his earnings that have been stored away for him for use when he retires.

There have been some recent expansions of the social security program, Mr. Winters observes. He suggests that more extensions may go far to solve the problem of caring for the aged.

In the meantime, however, the problem is with us, and the Department of Public Welfare issues checks to needy aged, blind, and dependent children in the amount of more than a million dollars a year.

And the number of new applications for assistance — now running at the rate of 50,000 per year — keeps rising.

FINE FISH STORY

Syracuse, N. Y. — When a motorist, arrested for speeding, was taken into court, he told the judge that his wife had become ill after eating fish and he was hurrying to take her home. The judge commented, "Some fish story." So, William Fish, of 104 Fish Ave., got hooked for a $10 fine.

MILLIONS of people have visited Yellowstone National Park to marvel at the Wonders of Nature, to stand in awe before the mysterious work of God. Forests and lakes and waterfalls and steaming pools of varied color and geysers almost without number! Who can walk or ride through this magic land without worshipping the Maker of it all?

FOR most of us, Old Faithful takes the place of central interest. As regularly as sunrise and sunset, this magnificent geyser throws its shaft of spray into the sky. Ask the attendant when next the geyser will perform; then go about your sightseeing for the next hour; you will not miss its appearance if you are on hand at the fixed moment. That regularity has not changed through the centuries. In the midst of change and circumstance there is something that is regular and dependable. What has Old Faithful said to you?

GOD is as dependable as that; He is from everlasting to everlasting. Women and men may fail us, but we can be sure of the continuing love and goodness of our God. Paul reminds us in the first chapters of Romans that even man's unfaithfulness does not change God's abiding faithfulness. Jesus makes it very clear that the Father sends His sunshine and His showers even if we are ungrateful and evil. Aren't you glad that God, like Old Faithful in Yellowstone, keeps doing His job in fidelity and goodwill, however unworthy we may be?

TRUE LOVE is like Old Faithful; "many waters cannot quench love"; it grows the more strong with testing. Never doubt the woman or the man who truly loves you. Mother-love and father-love, every true and unselfish love, means a continual and beautiful faithfulness in which you may rest. Thank God for love. Thank God for Old Faithful.

YOU IN THE CHURCH THE CHURCH IN YOU

Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are showered with benedictions that fortify and influence for a better citizenship and a stronger democracy. In the church the ministerial are molding religious character. Statesmen today declare that the church alone can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of state in these perilous times. Then we with our children should go to the church of our choice on Sunday. "You in the Church and the Church in you" form a combination for good. Be a regular CHURCH GOER and a daily BIBLE READER.
